2 A/ Try to guess what kind of questions your friend was asked in an interview with a hotel manager.

I saw an interesting advertisement in the local newspaper. I sent them my CV and then I went to an interview with a hotel manager. She wanted to know how old I was. (1) It is an ordinary question. She continued and asked me what kind of jobs I had already done. (2) This was still ok. Furthermore, she needed to know if I was married. (3) Then I got angry because for some reason she wondered whether I had any children. (4) She also put on the desk her tablet and started to write down some details. Suddenly her laptop broke down and she asked me if I could repair it. (5) I sat next to her and thought of my IT experience. I was absolutely lost. Fortunately I found it was easy to help her. She offered me a cigarette and asked me to go for a drink. (6) The end was excellent because she wanted to know if I would accept her job requirements. (7) I went to my mum and she explained that I had been a lucky man. (8)

B/ A role play

Make your own job advertisement in pairs then swap your advertisements and try to act out your job interviews (an alternative way could be to create your own notice board with students' ideas and choose one of the offers for an interview).
